

In Memory of Gabby Morales September 2007 - August 2011

Priscilla Machado was born into a Pentecostal family and always held her faith close to her heart. Her kindness and generous spirit are relevant in her everyday practices. Her passion and career, working for a non-profit organization that helps educate children and their families on the dangers of drugs and alcohol, reflect just that.

Priscilla was the mother of Gabby Morales, above. While Priscilla was away in Haiti on a mission this past August, a tragedy fell upon her family that most of us will luckily never have to overcome.

A close family member entered the home of her parents, who were watching her daughter Gabby while she was in Haiti, and murdered her mother, father and 3 year old Gabby. Besides being stricken with the grief of losing so many she loved, she must also deal with the financial burden on her own.

Any type of donation, whether small or large, would benefit Priscilla in so many ways. If money is not something you can give please keep her in your prayers and feel free to forward this to anyone you think might be interested in this cause.

All money collected will go towards helping Priscilla with funeral and legal costs.
